Distributor Reporting

Significant Dealings Reporting

Distributors are required to notify the issuer if they become aware of a significant dealing in the product that is not consistent with the TMD.

The issuer will rely on notifications of significant dealings to monitor and review the product, this TMD, and its distribution strategy, and to meet its own obligation to report significant dealings to ASIC.

Dealings outside this TMD may be significant because:

- they represent a material proportion of the overall distribution conduct carried out by the distributor in relation to the product, or
- they constitute an individual transaction which has resulted in, or will or is likely to result in, significant detriment to the client (or class of client).

In each case, the distributor should have regard to:

- the actual or potential harm to a client,
- the nature and extent of the inconsistency of distribution with the TMD (including an explanation of why the dealings occurred outside the target market),
- the date range of when the significant dealing occurred,
- the number of clients impacted by the significant dealing (i.e. the number of clients who are not in the target market (or who have been excluded from the target market) as a proportion of all clients who have acquired the product), and
- the time period in which these acquisitions outside the target market occurred.

The reporting period is as soon as practicable but no later than 10 business days after becoming aware of the significant dealing.

Complaints Reporting

The distributor will provide details of the number and nature of complaints relating to product design, product availability and distribution, having regard to privacy.

The distributor should provide details as soon as practicable but no later than 10 business days following the end of the calendar quarter.
